SOCIAL

One of the greatest but happiest surprises in society circles here in a long time was the announcement this morning of the marriage of Mr. Harry Marshall Brown, secretary and treasurer of the Clarksburg Light & Heat company, to Miss Helen Catherine Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Johnson, of Lafayette, Ind., which took place last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Meridian Street Methodist Episcopal church, Indianapolis, Ind., the Rev. Joshua Stansfield officiating. Mr. Brown left here Thursday, April 18, to pay her a visit and they were married two days later. They had planned to be married in June, but with the thought of surprising their friends and yielding to Cupid's romantic capers, proceeded to Indianapolis soon after his arrival in Lafayette and were married as stated.

After spending a day or so with his bride, Mr. Brown returned to Clarksburg and for several days not even his most intimate friends knew of his marriage. Last night, however, just before leaving for Cincinnati to meet his bride and accompany her to this city, where they will reside in the future, he pleasantly surprised his friends by announcing his marriage.

Mr. Brown has been the capable

THE UNION DEPOT

"The Union Depot," given for the benefit of the Modern Maccabees promises to be one of the most interesting and amusing entertainments ever given in Clarksburg. The stage is set as a depot, having a lunch counter, news stand, ticket office, baggage room and all that goes to make up a real Union Depot, such as you would see at Chicago or any other large city. But the real amusing feature is the passengers with their criminalities, carpet bags, lunch baskets, bird cages, etc.

There is old Uncle Josh Hayseed and his good wife, Sarah, about to take the keers to visit their daughter Mary Ann, who lives in New York and puts on airs. There is the long-faced Deacon preaching several real sermons to the worldly passengers. There will be Mr. and Mrs. Henpeck, Mrs. Buttinsky, Carrie Nation and in fact everybody and every character one is apt to see in a depot.

The entertainment is directed by Miss Lulu Melick from King's School of Oratory, of Pittsburg, who makes a specialty of this play and has given it before large audiences in many of our neighboring cities. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Modern Maccabees. Several musical numbers will be given. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents. Seats on sale at box office Monday, beginning at 9 a. m. Remember the date—Monday, April 29.

secretary and treasurer of the Clarksburg Light & Heat company for three years. His former home was in Oil City, Pa., where a number of relatives reside. He is a gentleman of high business accomplishment, possessing a magnetic personality and enjoying the friendship and confidence of a large circle of business associates and society acquaintances.

The bride visited here last winter, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Moore and other friends, and is a beautiful accomplished lady, possessing most lovely grace and charm, and is a member of society's most prominent set in Lafayette, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will arrive here from Cincinnati Monday and will then be "at home" to friends at the Waldo hotel.

Miss Louise Ancrum Tate, daughter of Mrs. Frances Tate and the late James E. Tate, was married at 7 p. m. Wednesday to Mr. Robert Lee Riggs, formerly of Clarksburg, but now of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. H. Ecleston, rector of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, at the home of the bride's mother, 1506 Park avenue, Baltimore.

The bride was attired in a white lace gown, with a tulle veil, and was given away by her brother, Mr. John E. Tate. Only the members of the immediate families were present, and a reception was held after the ceremony. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Tate sailed for Europe, where they will spend their honeymoon. They expect to be abroad about six weeks. Upon their return they will reside in Philadelphia.

Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Admiral Joseph N. Miller, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goldsborough, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thomas, Elizabeth, N. J., and Mr. William Keen, Newark, N. J.

Several Clarksburgers have received the following announcements:

Mrs. James E. Tate announces the marriage of her daughter

Mr. John B. Hart and his niece, Miss Mary Alexander, gave a small but beautifully appointed card party last evening in his handsome new home in chestnut street complimentary to Mrs. Clifton Comly and Mrs. Marvin R. Maxwell, of Indianapolis, who are the visiting guests of Mrs. Henry Raymond. Three tables were prettily arranged in the parlor for progressive euchre, having LaFrance long stemmed roses for the women and white roses for the men. At the close of the game the first prize was won by Mrs. Maxwell and the lone hand prize was captured by Miss Garrard on a cut with Mrs. Lowndes. The gentlemen's head prize and lone hand prize were both won by Col. Henry Raymond. At 10 o'clock a delicious salad supper and ices were served at small tables. Among the invited guests on Mr. Hart's list were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lowndes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Wilson, Col. and Mrs. Henry Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. William H.

Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hart, Mrs. Marvin R. Maxwell, of Indianapolis, Miss Garrard, Mrs. Clifton Comly, of Indianapolis and Miss Susie Maxwell.

Thursday afternoon at the Fort Henry club in Wheeling, Mrs. C. H. Simpson delightfully entertained a party of her friends with a luncheon and bridge party complimentary to Mrs. Sprigg Camden, of Parkersburg, who is the guest of Mrs. G. Oliver in Wheeling. Bridge was played by those present, the games being very interesting and closely contested. At the completion of the play a dainty luncheon was placed at the disposal of those present. The guests were Mrs. N. P. Whitaker, Mrs. G. Oliver, Mrs. P. Tatum, Mrs. B. W. Peterson, Mrs. A. Glass, Miss Kate Hazlett, Mrs. A. C. Whitaker, Miss Helen Devrels, Mrs. M. P. Wilson, Mrs. J. Storer, Mrs. H. C. Whitaker, Mrs. H. C. Hazlett and Mrs. H. C. Simpson. An enjoyable time was spent by those present.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Mr. F. O. Brandt, treasurer of the Summit Coal & Coke company, whose property is located at Phoenixville and whose offices are in this city. The bride-elect is Miss Mary Campbell, a charming member of Detroit, Mich. (Continued on page 8.)
